LOSS OF THE JORY

Story of the Tragedy Off the Rip Raps Saturday Morning.

Captaln French Has Contract to Raise the Sunken Tug-Submerged Life Boat Floated Wreckage.

Sunday, detailed briefly the story of the loss of the tug Maggie J. Jory and the drowning of the fireman, Mr. Turner Jones, and saving of her crew by the tug Volunteer, of Baltimore.

A Virginian-Pilot reporter yesterday interviewed Captain Isaac B. Forbes, a well known steamboat man, who was temporarily acting as mate of the Jory. Captain Forbes stated that the accident to the Jory and her sinking occurred Saturday morning.

It occurred, as stated in this paper,

It occurred, as stated in this paper, between the Rip-Raps and Willoughby Spit. The tug Volunteer was passing with a tow of two barges laden with general merchandise.

Mr. Forbes was at the wheel of the Jory, and as the Volunteer approached, he made a motion to throw the wheel over and swing the Jury away from the Volunteer and her tow. Like most steamboat men of this section, he is accustomed to the cross-stearing gear, while the Jury has a straight stearing gear. The Jury is a light tug, responds readily to her wheel, and the result was she at once swung her bow to the tow line of the Volunteer between the Volunteer and the first barge in her tow.

The tow line of the Volunteer struck the bow of the Jory, scraped up to the deck and swept the deck, taking off the Jory's smokestack and wrenching the main house and pilot house loose from their fastenings. As the force of the collision with the tow line listed the Jory, she took in a large amount of water. A moment after she righted, floated for a moment, then went down steps foremost in thirty-six feet of floated for a moment, then went down stern foremost in thirty-six feet of water.

As she did so the pilot house floated off and the main house also floated away with the Jory's metal life-boat under it. The life-boat was fastened to the top of the main house and although lisself under the wrecked main house, supported the mass of wreckage and thus probably saved the other members of the crew.

of the crew. Captain T. R. Debnam, of the Jory; Captain T. R. Debnam, of the Jory; Ike B. Forbes, mate: Albert Munden, chief engineer; William Barrom, fireman, and George Davis, colored, cook, swam to the wreckage. Mr. Forbes swam to one of the barges and called for a line, but he was not heard or seen by those on the barge, and was compelled to swim back to the wreckage. It was not long, however, before those on the Volunteer learned of the plight of the wrecked men and took them aboard. The men suffered keenly from the exposure in the water and chill air of the early morning.

The Jory is about 49 feet long, was built in Baltimore, Md., and was used by her owners, the Courtland Lumber Company, for towing logs to its mill at South Norfolk. She is said to be worth $3,000 to $4,000.

Captain W. H. French, it is under-worth $3,000 to $4,000.

Captain W. H. French, it is understood, has the contract for raising the Jory for the sum of $800. Work was begun on the undertaking Sunday, and it is expected that the Jory can be raised without very great trouble. It is understood that the work will be rushed in order to recover the body of the drowned fireman as soon as possible. He was a quiet, popular young man, and his untimely death is deeply regretted in his large circle of associates.

BURGLARS FOILED.

UNSUCCESSFUL ATTEMPT TO ROB THE OFFICE OF JOHNS BROS.

When Mr. John Allen, stableman at Johns Bros., coal and wood yard, at Atlantic City, went to their office yes-

Atlantic City, went to their office yesterday about 4:30 a. m., he found the office had been entered by some unknown parties, who obtained access by breaking in the back door.

Once inside they smashed off the upper hinge of the Miller safe and broke off the handle of the safe. The party, or parties, probably used a large safe hammer. They did not effect entrance to the safe, but left without securing anything of value. They would not have got much even if they had opened the safe as very littel money had been teff in the safe. It is the custom of the firm to bank up its money daily and they never keep much on hand at the office. They are no clues to the perpetrators. The work was done in such bungling manner that it is apparent it was not done by profesional burglars.

Thousands of People Visit the Buchanan Farm Yesterday.

the Monster Lies High and Drymr. B. L. Dozier Will To-Day Begin to Try Out the Oil-How the Leviathan Was Killed.

The big whale that lies high and dry at Pleasure Beach drew thousands of sight-seers to that point yesterday, and Sunday, and many went home laden with trophies secured from its mammoth carcass.

The people went there on foot, in buggies and 'busses and on bicycles and looked and wondered. THE ROUTE TO TAKE

As it will probably be there for some days a few words as to the route for sight-seers to take may be timely. The best way to go from Norfolk is to take the road to the water works, turn there to the left and go over the bridges and arms of Lakes Lawson and Smith. The route is available for vehicles of all kinds and the distance is about ten miles from Norfolk.

The road to the water works is in good condition for wheels. The road from the water works on is also good. Bicycle riders can make the trip one way in about an hour and a half.

ON SYNDICATE LAND. The whale was cast up on the land of the Lynnhaven syndicate, of which Mr. Richard H. Wright, of Norfolk, agent of the Boston Line, is president. It is about one mile west of Lynnham.

It is about one mile west of Lynn-haven Inict.

The farm and fisheries are leased from the syndicate by Mr. John Buchanan, of Lynnhaven. Under his lease he ac-quires title, and it is believed that the whale is worth quite a sum for its oil and whalebone. Whalebone has been getting scarce in the past few years and high in price.

HIS WHALESHIP.

The big whale was carefully measured yesterday by a Virginian-Pitot representative as it lies on the bench. It is sixty-five feet long, about fifteen feet through and has a mouth with a spread of about twenty feet. It is black above and white below. The skin of the whale is beautifully ribbed underneath. Careful examination indicates that it is a common Roqual or Razor-back This species grows to a size of sixty to seventy feet long, so this is one of the largest of its kind. The Roquals are widely distributed and commit great havoc in fisheries. They rarely congregate in "schools," but are found isolated from each other. Their capture is not generally pursued, as they do not generally yield much blubber. The whalebone is stout, coarse and of comparatively little value. The name Roqual is derived from the Norse Roqual is derived from the Norse Roqual is derived from the Norse TRUCK BY A STEAMER.

It is said that the Washington-steamer struck the whale Saturday week, and reported the striking of something, supposed to be a submerged log. It is now believed that this "log" was this whale and that the collision broke its jaw. TRY OUT THE OIL.

Mr. Dozier states that he expects to secure about fifty barrels of oil, a quantity of whalebone and a considerable quantity of refuse meat and bone that will make good fertilizer. He will use a big fifty-barrel kettle and the sight will be an interesting one. will be an interesting one

The matter of running water main on River avenue to connect with the Webb property was referred to Superintendent Riddle for investigation.

The Street Committee brought in a report on naming the streets and numbering the houses, and it was decided to make Colley avenue the basis and number from both sections, and the supplies for street names and numbering the houses were ordered through Mr. Umstadter.

The chairman of the board stated that the contract for painting the firealarm boxes had been awarded to Mr. J. E. Wright.

The secretary stated that he had addressed a communication to the Councils in regard to getting these bodies to request the Legislature to reseind the 15th section of the Annexation Act, and also in regard to bonds as requested at the last meeting.

RAILWAY FRANCHISE ASKED. The Street Committee brought in a

RAILWAY FRANCHISE ASKED.

Mr. Coles, vice-president of the Chesapeake Transit Company; appeared before the board and asked that his company be given the right of way, through Williams street, a part of the ward, so that its tracks could run over the Atlantic Terminal route to City Hall Square, so as to give them a through line from the city by that route through Brambleton to Cape Henry. He said that this was the only route over which his road could run, as there was an exclusive franchise over all other routes to and from the city.

A motion by Mr. Anderson that the request be granted failed to receive a second. RAILWAY FRANCHISE ASKED.

The board decided to have the streets swept by hand. The secretary was requested to request the Water Board to remove the fire-plugs to a better location.

ELECTRIC LIGHTS. Mr. Camp offered the following:

mr. Camp offered the following:

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 27, 1899.

In the published account of the action of the "Light Committee," in the matter of the contracting for electric lights at the expiration of the present contract, we notice that the bids include the lighting of Atlantic City Ward, and that the majority report of the said committee recommends that the contract be awarded to the "Norfolk Heat, Light and Power Company" for enclosed orclights at $75 each per annum and 2 per cent. of the gross receipts of said company.

After a careful consideration of the matter we are of the opinion that this price is not advantageous to our Ward, and we are not wilking to consent to pay $75 per light when another company offers to furnish the san are lights under the same conditions for $75 per annum. You will notice that paying the city 2 per cent. on their gross business does not reduce the price per light, but is a lump, sum that the four wards of the city would receive the benefits of as a bonus on the contract, and the Councils are prohibited from appropriating one cent from the city treasury to our Ward; therefore, under the proposed contract, we would have to, pay $6 per light more than we can get them for and $5 more per light than the City of Norfolk Heat, Light and Power Company being $5 per light per annum higher, as soon as the lights of the City Ward allowed us participate in the 2 per cent, amended bidd which it does not), the price per light of the Norfolk Heat, Light and Power Company being $5 per light per annum higher, as soon as the lights of the City Ward allowed us participate in the 2 per cent, amended bidd which it does not), the price per light of the Norfolk Heat, Light and Power Company will still be the case within one can be price per light of the Norfolk Heat, Light and Power Company will still be the lowest, and we will be at a direct loss in accepting the contract of the Norfolk Heat, Light and 2 contract with the Norfolk Heat, Light and 2 contract of the Norfolk Heat, Light and 2 contract

Should your honorable body approve the majority report, viz: to contract with the Norfolk Heat, Light and Power Company, we request that you do not include the lighting of Atlantic City Ward in said contract.

After some discussion the recommendation was adopted.

OTHER MATTERS.

A request that a fire plus be put on Pembroke avenue, near the Protestant Hospital, was referred to Mr. Riddle. A petition from the teachers of the public school to fix them salaries the same as the teachers in the other schools of the city, was referred to the secretary to report at the next meeting.

A communication from Mr. W. W. Chamberlaine, calling attention to the bad condition of Mowbray Arch and asking for relief, was referred to Mr. Riddle.

An offer of Mr. E. L. Turner to raise the main pump house on Colley avenue for $100, was referred to the proper committee.

A communication from the City Treasurer, asking that the board provide for the payment of its portion of the repairs to the Ghent Bridge, $2,500, was referred to the secretary to draw up the proper vouchers.

The Flemming Case To-Bay.

Among 'the hundreds of curiosity seekers who went to see the whale Sunday was the noted constable of Princess Anne county, O. I. Fleming. He was seen by several reliable parties, who said he was in a wagon with half a dozen men, and that nothing but his head was visible. This is not a fish story, but a fact. The informant of the writer of this article is a well known young grocery clerk, who has had dealings with Fleming and could not be mistaken, he says.
